Our Theme

We searched and searched to find a theme
Which we considered "on the beam".
Considering all our themes on hand,
We decided to use "Our Great Western Land".
The girl on the right is welcoming you
To El Rancho J'ville, which is coming in view.

On the faculty page you will see
Cowboys branding cattle with A-B-C
Representing our teachers giving out the grades,
Which during each six weeks we students have made.

Next in line you will find a thundering herd of buffalo—
A fitting name for classes, as they're anything but slow.
A campfire and cowboys under a big western moon
Represent our clubs which meet during Thursday's home room.

An Indian woman with her papoose small—
A feature of the West looked for by all.
The bull-dogging sport is popular out west
Though we like the more modern sports the best.
Picture yourself on our bucking horse,
Which would be humorous to those on the ground, of course.

To El Rancho J'ville with its boots and saddles,
Coyote, cacti, sage, and cattle
We welcome you all to enter and share
All the wonderful things you will find there.

We hope you will enjoy your stay in the West
And agree with the staff—our yearbook is the best.

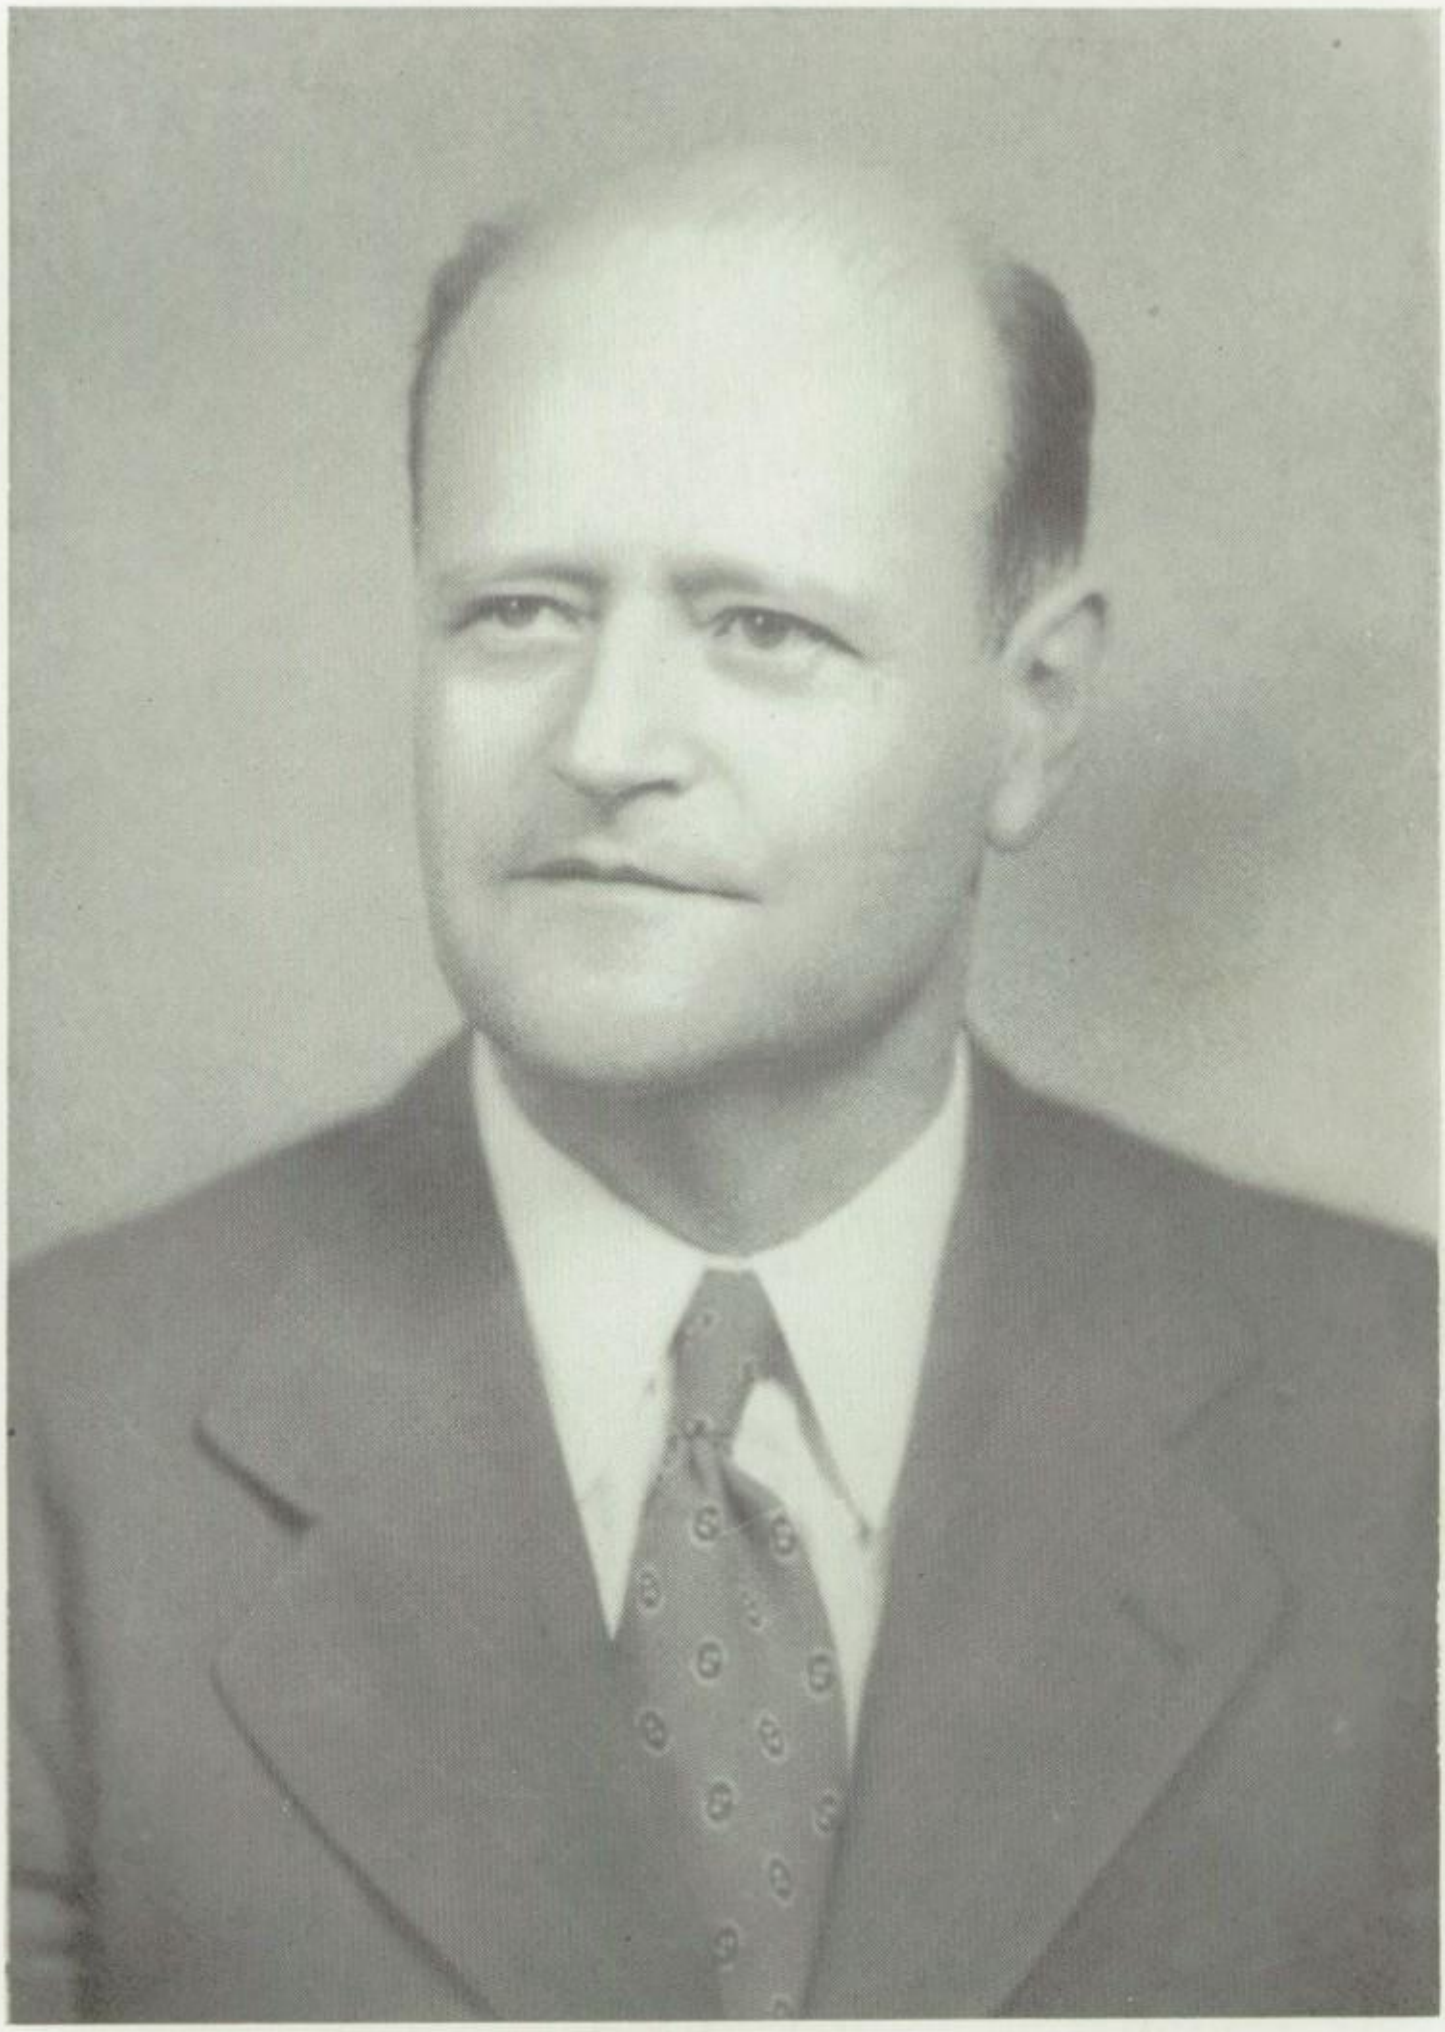
Dedication

With sincere appreciation of his guidance and cheerful helpfulness given to our class during our four years in high school, We, the Senior Class of 1947, dedicate this, Our Yearbook, to

MR. FRANK M. MOFFITT



Frank M. Moffitt, Advisor

Board of Education

Seated: William Townslay; Mary L. Newman; Bea Loomis, Sec.; Ben Roodhouse, Pres.; Frank Bracewell; Hugh Gibson; Harry Dowland.
Standing: Fred Bailey; Harry Hammitt; Darrell Blodgett, Supt.; Marion Summers.

The duty of the Board of Education is to provide the kind of educational opportunities which the people desire for their children. In order to do this they provide buildings, teaching materials, school administrators, a faculty, and plan budgets. More than this, they give their time and energy to the consideration of educational problems which are vital to the young people of the schools. They serve without compensation.

Board of Control

Prin. John Agger; Supt. Dr. Blodgett; Secretary, Mrs. Loomis; Pres. Mr. Robinson; Mr. Bracewell; Don Gilchrist; Mr. Moffitt.

The Board of Control is organized by the Board of Education to supervise the various activities involving the expenditures of money by student groups in high school.

The Board of Control meets on the first Monday of every school month in the Board room. These meetings are not restricted to board members, but they are open to anyone who wishes to attend in the interest of student activities.

The purpose of this board is to keep all high school incomes and expenditures under control.

Dr. Blodgett
Superintendent

To Dr. Blodgett, our superintendent, go our heartiest congratulations on the achievement of his degree of Doctor of Education. Although he was kept busy with the affairs of the local schools, he found time to achieve this highest degree in education.

His friendly way in and out of school will long be remembered by the class of 1947.

Mr. Agger, Principal

Miss Helen Harney
Secretary to Principal

Although we students do not know all the duties of a principal, it is very evident that John Agger works for the betterment of the school and takes interest in any student's problem that may arise. He takes great interest, also, in school activities and devotes much time attending our games and chaperoning our dances.

These are just a few of his admirable traits we seniors will miss.

Mr. May, Dean of Boys

Because of his untiring efforts and helpful manner in handling the problems related to his office, Mr. May, as Dean of Boys, has gained the respect and admiration of all the boys of Jacksonville High School.

Mr. May's Assistants

Seated: Nancy Pierce, Phyllis Ore.
Standing: Charlotte Dietz, Dorothy Standley, Linda Linstromberg, Janet Townslay, Marilyn Cruse.

Miss Evans' Assistants

Seated: Joan Davison, Betty Campbell.
Standing: Donna Moore, Lena Mae Kinnett, Shirley Stout.

Miss Evans, Dean of Girls

In addition to her fine work as Dean of Girls, Miss Evans has proved more than helpful to the class of 1947 by serving as faculty chairman for our Junior-Senior Banquet and taking charge of the sale of cards to raise money for our Senior skip day. Her understanding way will long be remembered by the Senior girls.

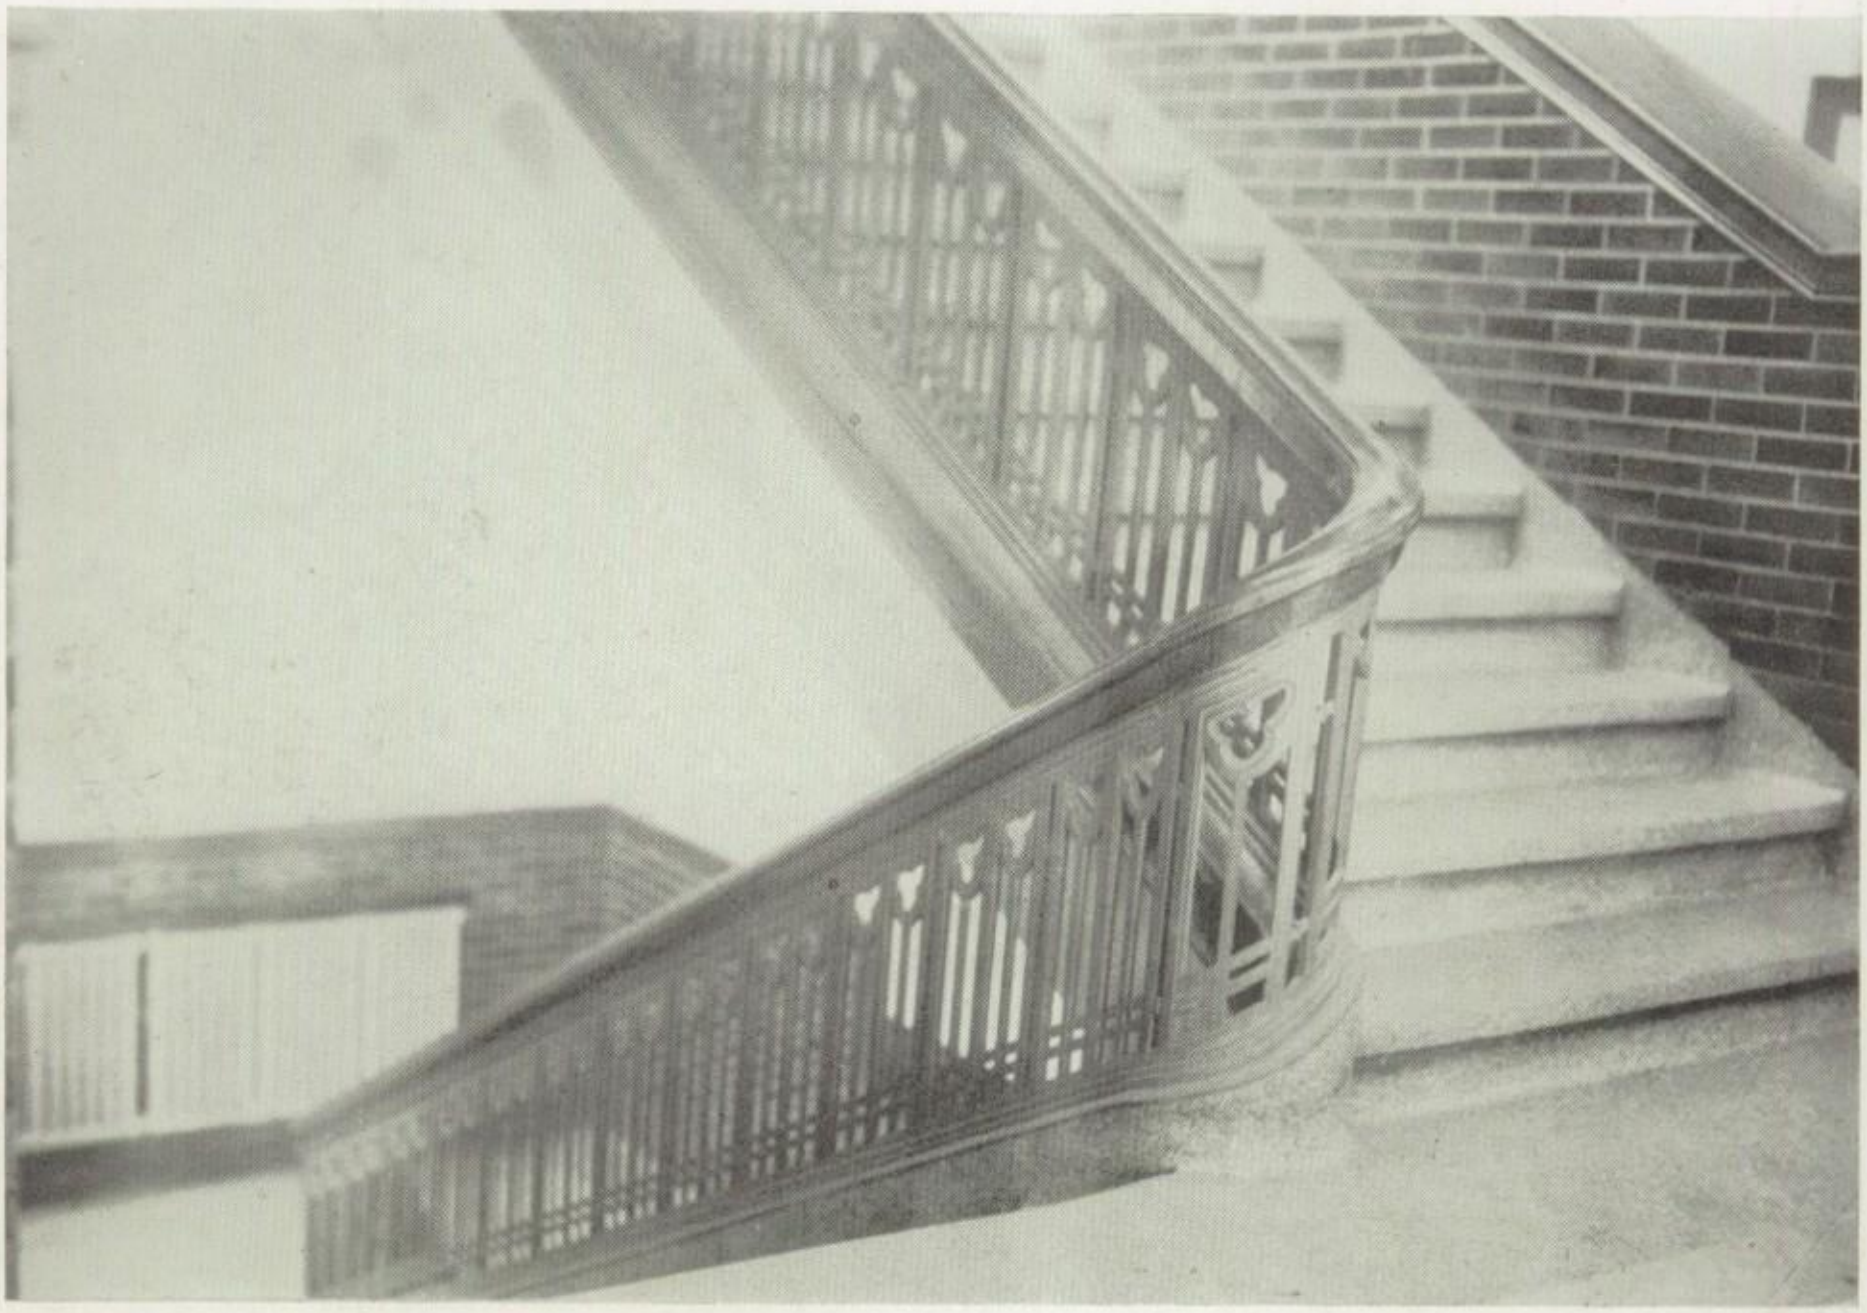
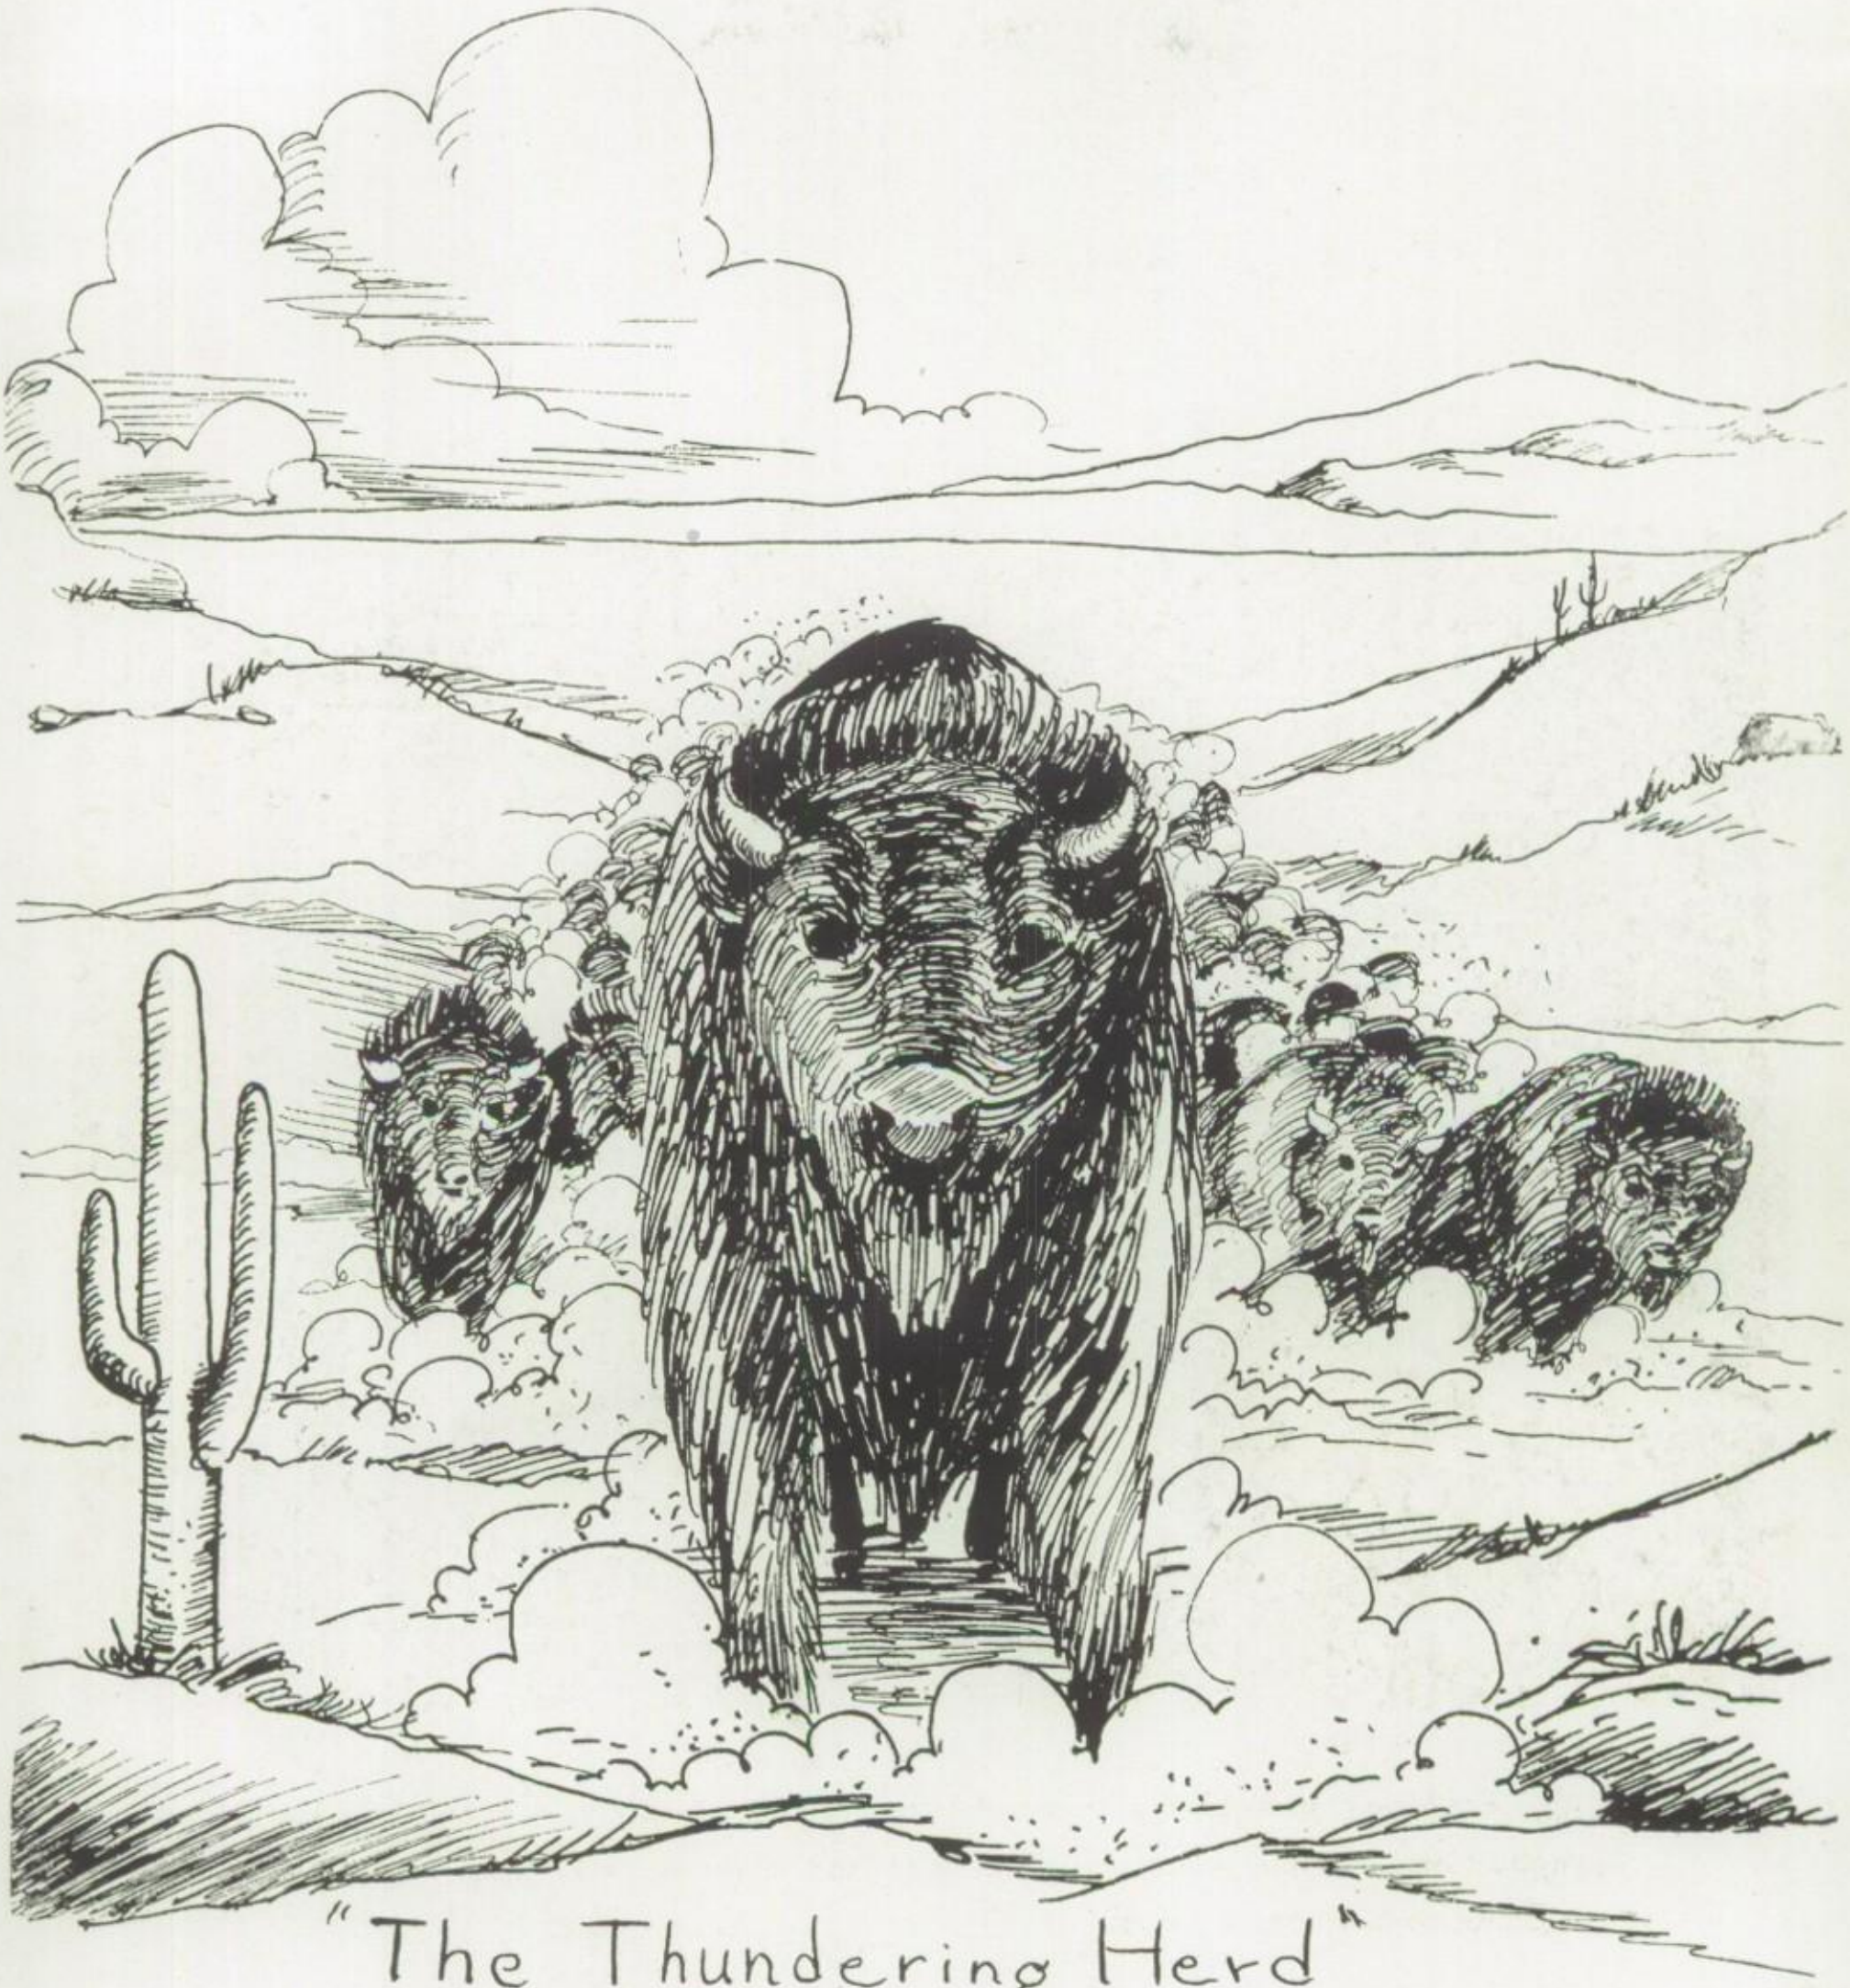
Where we meet before and after classes.
If its walls could talk, what interesting tales they would have to tell.

The Stairway To Success



Each day thousands of feet tread these steps. Some young and gay trip lightly along; some weary and sad scuff and drag on every step. Some go up and some go down, that's what makes the world go round.



"The Thundering Herd"

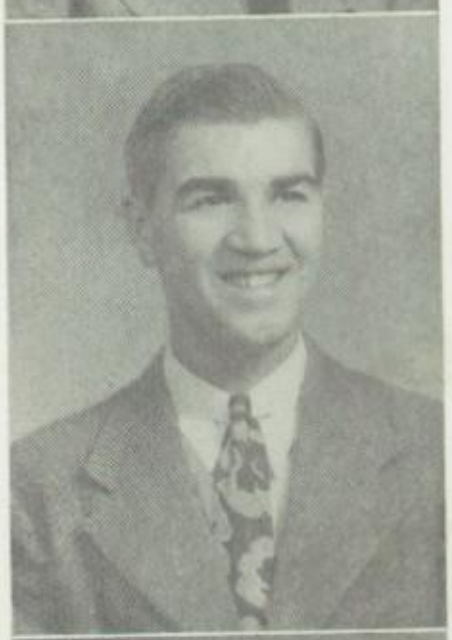
Senior Class Officers

When we were freshmen, we elected Jim Reed as our class president. During our sophomore year, 1945, Don Gilchrist served this position equally well. The following year, as juniors, we elected Bill Zellman, who served as chairman for our Junior-Senior Prom. Our senior year has proven Warren Stewart a most capable leader.

Warren Stewart
President

Bill Zellman served as our vice-president dent both our freshman and sophomore years. In 1946 we elected Bob Brohan, who left J. H. S. and attended another school during his junior year, leaving the position of vice-president vacant during '46. As seniors John Smith became our vice-president.



John Smith
Vice-President

Our first class secretary was Shirley Meyers, followed by JoAnn Benson, who was elected to this honor when we were sophomores. Our junior year, Esther Wilding was made our scribe. In 1947 Helen Van Noy, who served as chairman for our Junior-Senior Banquet in 1946, became our class recorder.

Helen Van Noy
Secretary

Since we had no financial transactions during our first two years in high school, we did not elect a treasurer. But when we were juniors, we presented a Prom and Banquet, "Heavenly Bodies", for the seniors and our Junior Play, "Headed for Eden", which called for financial records. Joan Wolfe answered our call and served as treasurer both our junior and senior years.

Senior Class Council

Row 1: Joan Wolfe, Marilyn Cruse, Frances Heimlich, Marianne Ranson, Helen Van Noy.
Row 2: Paul Young, John Smith, Sally Rowe, Lorna Wright, Laurena Christen, Daisy Hughett, Dick Mills, Bob Brohan.

The Senior Council consists of one representative from each senior home room. They are expected to deal with all problems too great for the class as a whole to handle. Some of the duties that they undertook this year were: arranging for "senior skip day"; choosing graduation announcements; planning the love feast, baccalaureate, and graduation. They deserve a lot of credit for having done so well on some of the most difficult projects of the class.

Freshman Officers

Charles Grant
President

As the freshmen entered J. H. S. they were confronted with several major problems. One of these was electing good officers of the class. As their president they elected Charles Grant, who proved to be a good leader. "Freshman Open House" was a big success, "thanks", to each and every freshman who cooperated and worked to make it a success.

Betty Townslay
Vice-President

Betty Townslay was chosen vice-president of the freshman class. Since the freshmen are in the majority, it is always very necessary to have a good vice-president to assist in keeping the class in hand. Betty fulfilled her position with the greatest ability.

Mary Trotter
Secretary

The class of '50's first secretary was Mary Trotter. It was Mary's job to keep accurate records of the class meetings.

Don Smith
Treasurer

Although financial transactions are not too great during the freshmen year, Don Smith served as class treasurer very well.

Not only have these officers served their individual jobs well, but they have seen the class through a most trying year. We know your future leaders will do as well, and we wish you the best of luck!

Through popular demand the radio club was organized this year under the sponsorship of Mr. Hubbert.

The regular meetings of the club are held on the first and third Thursdays of every month. During this time various code procedures and radio theory related to amateur radio are studied and discussed by the members.

Although the main purpose of the club is to prepare its members for the amateur radio operators examination, it is not limited only to those who wish to qualify for that license. Anyone interested in amateur radio is welcome, for the club is designed to meet the needs of the rank beginner as well as the licensed amateur operator. Since radio operation involves so many skills and procedures that cannot be taken up during the regular club period, some of the members meet several times a week and practice operation, and study theory on their own. This is usually done under the guidance of a more advanced member of the group.

A Christmas play, "The Cornhusk Doll", was enjoyed by the Dramatic Club, as well as by the entire sophomore class. Besides plays, the programs consist of tryouts, pantomimes, and occasional demonstrations on such subjects as the art of applying make-up. The Dramatic Club affords a great opportunity to those who wish to take part in junior and senior plays, and in operas.

Under the guidance of Miss Lucille Heaton, the Girls' Athletic Association is developing into a group of well-trained girls, who are interested in good clean sports and in a healthy life.

The girls receive awards, which are based on a point system. The local numerals are given for 600 points, the local letter for 1200 points, first state award for 1600 points, and the second state award for 2000 points. Points are given for eight consecutive weeks in any one sport under the supervision of a teacher. Extra points, which enable a girl to receive her award sooner than usual, are given for any unorganized activity, such as, walking, skating, swimming, and hiking.

The program for G. A. A. for the past year included soccer, social dancing, basketball, volleyball, bowling, and baseball. G. A. A. sponsored a playday which included schools of the surrounding districts. The theme was automobiles. A Christmas party was held at Christmas time. Also, the annual initiation party was given honoring the new members. At the end of the school year G. A. A. held its annual picnic at Nichols Park.

Money was earned by selling ice cream bars at the basketballl games. This was used for the betterment of the club and to help send our representative to the G. A. A. camp in the summer.

The club members ushered for several outside activities, two being "The Merchant of Venice", a professional stage play under A. A. U. W. sponsorship, and the stage play "Life With Father."

A picnic is held every spring at Nichols Park. The Club is composed of members of all four classes. This year, at the beginning of school names of those who wanted to become ushers were handed to the old members, who voted on them. Those chosen were given careful instruction on ushering. The ushers wear uniforms of crimson and white, the school colors. All, with the exception of the head usher, wear red jackets. The head usher's jacket is white. The girls wear white skirts and the boys white trousers.

During the year interesting demonstrations and discussions are carried on to acquaint the members with the different techniques of taking pictures. Special demonstrations are given in the school dark room to teach the members the procedures in developing, printing, and drying the pictures. The dark room is a valuable asset to the club.

Discussions and debates on subjects both ridiculous ("Which Is More Important, The Hair Brush or the Tooth Brush?") and serious ("The Present Housing Situation") are participated in by the members, who are also interested in speech work, as all but one of the participants in the speech contests were Forum members. On the lighter side, the Forum sponsored the successful Sadie Hawkins Day celebration.

Tentures

To Our Staff

To our staff we owe a debt,
For they are the ones who worked and sweat
Figuring out the various divisions
And adjusting themselves to the other's decisions.

Marianne and Linda "circulated" well—
Handled our money and knew how to sell.
They worked many an afternoon till after the bell
On the new time payment plan, which went over swell!

Sally and Helen were our "Senior Eds".
They worked like slaves and used their heads
Thinking up captions for each guy and gal—
A lot of praise should go to Helen and Sal.

Jimmy was working with his pen and pads,
Getting money for our '47 yearbook ads.
He had a great sales talk of which we were glad.
He could have gotten more, but no room was to be had.

We told Mary just what was desired.
It seemed as though she never tired
Of doing the art work for our "Crimson J"
Thanks loads, Mary—it was really O. K.

George! George! Where can he be?
Why, he's behind that camera, can't you see?
"All right," he would say, "I'll count to three—
Don't anyone take his eyes off me!"

When it came time for club pictures, John was on hand,
Telling each club member just where to stand,
Moving this one and that one, so they all could be seen.
Yes, John's work with the clubs was certainly keen.

With the work on the calendar Marjorie did her share.
Her work was rated best, and not just fair.
She took notes on all activities and wrote them with care,
And fixed things up right with originality rare.

Marilyn and JoAnn were in charge of our "features".
All through the year, they were busy little creatures,
Working on the write-ups for opera, minstrel, and plays,
Vespers, and May Day—outstanding features of our "J".

Keeping up with sports kept Delbert on the run;
Yet when it came to facts, he admitted it was fun,
Working with each team till his job was done
And keeping track of all games that we lost and won.

Joan and Fran worked hard on the jokes.
They did it all just to please you folks.
We hope you like the selections they made,
For they'd receive a high salary—if salaries were paid.

The job of typists is one of work
And our three typists did not shirk.
Lorna, Beulah, and Mary Lou
Our whole-hearted thanks go to each of you.

Our competent advisors were Moffitt and May;
They told us what to do and helped in every way.
They worked steadily with us till the final day
To present Volume XXXVII of the "Crimson J".

El Rancho J'ville will hold memories dear
For the class of '47 throughout the years.
You all worked hard till your job was through,
And we both give our heartiest thanks to you.

The Council has acted as sponsor of all the school dances. The most popular dance of the year, which was under the capable leadership of the Council, the Christmas Dance, was enjoyed and appreciated by all.

This year the Council started a new project called "Getting Acquainted Day" which was very successful. The Council provides many other worthwhile activities.

Opera

Blushing Cornish maidens, gay, fun-loving pirates, and prancing policemen bring to mind the 1946 opera "The Pirates of Penzance" which was presented October 24th and 25th by the choral clubs under the direction of Miss Hopper and Miss Goddin.

Frederick (Dick Mills), a young man who was apprenticed as a boy to the pirates, through an error of his nurse-maid, Ruth (Marjorie Bruce), plans to leave the pirates (King, Don Gilchrist) and seek a nobler goal. He meets some beautiful maidens, the wards of General Stanley (Warren Stewart) and falls in love with one, Mabel (Doris Souza). The King and Ruth soon inform Frederick of a certain paradox that prevents his leaving. The Pirates attack the police and a battle ensues. However, everyone is reconciled and the operetta ends in typical Gilbert and Sullivan fashion. The production was given to capacity audiences both nights.

Minstrel

An unusual feature of the 1946 minstrel was the "Juke Box Jamboree" orchestra, which had the people both on and off the stage pattin' their feet.

"Cosmopolitan" Stewart, "Mushmouth" Baumann, "Tambo" Brohan, "Klinker" Hackett, "Alouiscious" Ryan, "Kingfish" Brohan, "Simonize" Gilchrist, and "Magnolia" Mills, each lent a tuneful air to the evening's entertainment and also cracked jokes.

The two outstanding vocal soloists were George Fox, singing "Night and Day", and Wanda Harrell, singing "To Each His Own". The comedy duo, "Ugly Chile", by Esther Wilding and Martha Williamson was a great success. A "Symphony of Lights" featuring baton twirling to music was another special feature. The "Rockettes" added their accustomed fine style to the show by tapping to "I Got Rhythm".

Congratulations to Miss Richards, Miss Self, Miss Heaton, Mr. Edelbrock, and our guest interlocutor, Mr. Cody, for a splendid evening!

Vespers

From the first chords of "Adeste Fideles" to the closing measures of the "Hallelujah Chorus", the 1946 production of the Christmas Vespers was one of the most successful programs ever presented. The silver stars on a blue background offered a very beautiful setting. The most outstanding solos were: "The Lord's Prayer" by Dick Mills, and "Ave Maria" by Doris Souza. Many other special numbers, semi-chorus groups, and chorus numbers added to the delightful program.

Senior Play

Seated: Linda Linstromberg, Helen Van Noy, Frances Heimlich, Betty Lou Phillips, Esther Wilding, Don Gilchrist, Martha Williamson, Marjorie Bruce.

Standing: Delbert Stoddard, Jimmy Reed, Don Brohan, Donna Moore, Bill Query, Bob Brohan, JoAnn Benson, Warren Stewart, Pat Clemmons, Dick Mills.

Comical situations as well as thought-provoking philosophy went hand in hand to make the 1947 Senior play a great success. The play was a hilarious comedy written by Marijane and Joseph Hayes.

The plot revolves around the trials and experiences of the Eldridge family, which consisted of Mrs. Eldridge (JoAnn Benson), Mrs. Thompson (Marjorie Bruce), and the children Jay (Don Gilchrist), Lindy, (Martha Williamson), and Marian (Esther Wilding).

Mrs. Eldridge tries to choose between her three suitors, Mr. King (Warren Stewart), Mr. Reynolds (Bob Brohan), and a Russian symphony conductor, Sascha Sevinsky (Bill Query). As Jay struggles to choose between a musical scholarship and a Hollywood contract, and Lindy prepares for a school show with her boy-friend Hugo (Dick Mills), Marian tries in vain to convince everyone she is dramatically talented. Jay's two girl friends, Madge Wilkins (Linda Linstromberg) and Evie Cannon (Frances Heimlich) further complicate his activities.

The Eldridge home is made even more lively by the next door neighbor's children, Butch (Jimmy Reed) and Hildred Reynolds (Betty Phillips).

Supporting parts in the play were capably taken by the maid, Carrie (Pat Clemmons), a Hollywood scout (Delbert Stoddard), two newspaper reporters (Helen Van Noy and Donna Moore) and a prizefighter (Don Brohan). In traditional comedy fashion all problems are solved, and the play ends happily.

In remembering an evening of fine entertainment, we congratulate the director, Miss Helen Paschall, the helpers, and the splendid cast.

Junior Play

Row 1: Ruth Hunt, Theresa Boucher, Norma Shaffer, Billy Jean Witham, Jeanne Brown, Ann Cloud.
Row 2: Raymond Durley, Keith Baumann, Fred Self, Edmund Vorhes, Bill Jarrett, Jack Kurtz.

The 1947 Junior play "That Girl Patsy" was presented two nights to enthusiastic audiences.

The wealthy Mrs. Warren (Theresa Boucher) has taken into her home a 17-year-old girl from the slums. Patsy (Jeanne Brown) is coldly received by Julia (Debbie Shaffer) Mrs. Warren's daughter and her friends—especially Violet Manners (Ann Cloud) who sees a potential rival for the affections of Bob (Keith Bauman), Julia's brother. Patsy, however, soon endears herself to everyone—particularly young Bob. Fred Coulson (Fred Self), a young man with a good personality, is one of Julia's strong admirers.

Suddenly Patsy discovers that Julia is in the power of Philip Greer (Jack Kurtz) who, unless Julia meets his demands for $5,000 threatens to sell certain letters to the papers. Inducing Greer to let her see the letters, Patsy hurls them into the fire. Mr. Warren (Edmund Vorhes) demands an explanation which Patsy cannot give without exposing Julia. Mr. Warren interprets Patsy's silence as guilt and orders her from the house. Bob declares his faith in Patsy, but she declines his help. Then Julia's better nature asserts itself and she confesses. Thus, all ends happily with romances as they should be.

Supporting parts were ably taken by Miss Harper, supervisor of the Uplift Club, (Billy Witham); Professor Orlando Powers, a friend of Julia's, (Ray Durley); Susie, the Irish maid, (Ruth Hunt); and Dinny, the Irish gardener, (Bill Jarrett).

Congratulations to Miss Mann and her helpers for two excellent performances.

The name George Fries, the date April 25, 1947, and the theme "Wishing" will long remain in the heart of every senior, for these are the things which made a never-to-be-forgotten Prom and Banquet.

Keith Baumann acted as toast-master at the Banquet, which was held at the Dunlap Hotel. The invocation was given by Ruth Hunt, followed by the welcome from Georgeanne Lynn, vice-president of the Junior class, and the response from Warren Stewart, president of the Senior class. The clever theme was ingeniously carried out with speeches given by: Ray Durley, Murval Smith, Theresa Boucher, Patty Tewell, followed by words from Miss Leonhard, Junior class advisor. During the program group singing was held, and Elizabeth Caldwell sang the theme song, "Wishing". At the close of the banquet Jack Kurtz welcomed the seniors to the Prom which was held at McClelland Hall from 9 to 12.

McClelland Hall was appropriately decorated in accordance with the theme.The orchestra was all we could ever "wish" for, and we Seniors truly thank you from the bottom of our hearts for one of the most looked-forward-to evenings of our last year.

The second part of the program was presented by the senior choir with Keith Baumann acting as master of ceremonies. JoAnn Benson and Warren Stewart sang a charming duet, "Oh Moment That I Blessed", and Dick Mills thrilled his audience with "The Toreador's Song". Crimsons in Action

Victory Over Routt!!

Track

Due to the fact that the Crimson "J" had to be in the hands of the printer before the weather allowed workouts in track, an account of this spring sport could not be given. However, a meeting was held for boys interested in track, and sixty boys attended. Out of this number, Coach Joe Brooks expects to develop a well rounded track team.

Baseball

Coach Bob Kraushaar called for baseball players and thirty boys attended the first meeting. A number of games have been scheduled and baseball is well on its way to take its place beside track as a spring sport at Jacksonville High School.

ON THE SPOT

I. While coming down the stairs to meet your date who is waiting in the front hall watching your descent, you trip and fall landing with a thud at his feet.

Betty Birdsell—(probably would)—Look up at him and bat her beautiful long eyelashes so charmingly that he'd think he himself had fallen instead.

Marty Williamson—(probably would)—Sit there scowling and finally yell "Well, don't just stand there! Pick me up, ya' big lug!"

Sally Rowe—(probably would)—Grumble something inaudibly, blush profusely, and finally mutter "Darn that rug!"

Joan Davison—(probably would)—Lie perfectly still crying dramatically "Ah've been shot!"

II. Walking to school one morning you see a car slowing down and you think they're stopping to pick you up. You run over to the car only to realize that they're honking for Mrs. C who is just coming out the front door.

Charlie Due—(probably would)—Get in the car anyway, snap his gum several times to regain his composure and blurt out "T'anks a lot".

Fred Self—(probably would)—Stand there grinning and scratching his head until they either asked him for a ride or pulled away and left him standing there.

Nick Mason—(probably wouldn't)—be walking to school.
